

HAVE YOUR SAY! TRAVEL DEMAND MANAGEMENT STRATEGY UPDATE

The City invites all interested and affected parties to comment on the update of its Travel Demand Management (TDM) Strategy.

Stuck in traffic? Managing the growth of urban traffic is vital for improving the liveability of Cape Town. Have your say on how the City is tackling car dependency and mobility habits to enable more sustainable commuting that improves people's travel time, health, and the climate.

The TDM Strategy is a collection of measures aimed at managing the movement of people by optimising the use of existing transport capacity and infrastructure. It promotes sustainable travel modes and choices over constructing new infrastructure for private vehicles.

This strategy is a core component of the City's Comprehensive Integrated Transport Plan 2023-2028 (CITP) as it describes how to balance demand for travel with the supply of transport infrastructure and operational capacity of all modes, which is essential to reaching the objectives of an integrated transport system.

The goal of the strategy is to alleviate congestion and reduce travel times by decreasing the demand for car use during peak times, particularly for single-occupant vehicles. Additionally, it seeks to contribute to environmental sustainability by reducing car usage.

In terms of section 17 of the Local Government: Municipal Systems Act, Act 32 of 2000, the public and interested parties or groups are given the opportunity to submit comments, recommendations or input to the municipality from Wednesday 15 October to Thursday 13 November 2025.

Comments, recommendations or inputs may be submitted by:
